DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to Applicant's Responses, filed on July 28, 2006 have been considered but they are not persuasive.

2. Claims 1-8 are amended. Claims 11-14 are newly added. Claims 1-14 are pending.

Response to arguments

3. In response to Applicant's Remarks filed on June 12, 2006, the following factual arguments are noted:

Koveos does not suggest or disclose information about equipment provided in different types of system and service information.

However, examiner does not agree.

Koveos teaches information about a service activity (i.e., currently leased for Epson Stylus Colour 600 Printer, page 3, section 0052) for equipment (i.e., Epson Stylus Colour 600 Printer in fig. 4, page 3 section 0052) and Koveos discloses, "The client can do so by clicking the "locate" button 17. Alternatively, a client may want to "search the floor plan "18 of their premises in order to audit the different types of equipment present on that floor. Such options are available for equipment equipped with radio frequency asset readers". This teaches that the different type of equipment is operated in different system (page 2 section 0050). Therefore, Koveos teaches information about equipment provided in different types of system and service information.

Claim Objections

4. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities:

As per claim 1, lines 4-5, "a plurality building sites", should it be, -- a plurality of building sites --?.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Koveos (U.S. Pub. No. 2002/0178100).

With respect to claim 1, Koveos teaches, displaying information about a service activity (i.e., currently leased for Epson Stylus Colour 600 Printer, page 3, section 0052) for equipment (i.e., Epson Stylus Colour 600 Printer in fig. 4, page 3 section 0052) located at a plurality of building sites (i.e., 37, location in fig. 4, building location is 227 Elizabeth Street in the state of NSW, page 3, section 0052, page 1, section 0016):

providing a web portal (website 3 in fig. 1, page 2, section 0048) comprising a database (database 2 in fig. 1, page 2, section 0048), and storing service activity information about a plurality of pieces of equipment (i.e., currently leased for Epson Stylus Colour 600 Printer, page 3, section 0052) for equipment (i.e., Epson Stylus Colour 600 Printer in fig. 4, page 3 section 0052), page 2, section 0048, 0050) operatively connected to different types of system (page 2, section 0050) located at distributed building sites in the database (i.e., a piece of equipment location is searched from database, page 2, sections 0049-0050, page 1, section 0016);

receiving a user request from one or more clients (computer 4 in fig. 1, page 2, section 0048) (i.e., asset inquiry 11 by user in fig. 3, page 2, section 0051) to send the service activity information (i.e., results of searching, fig. 4, page 3, section 0052, examiner interprets that "said information" refers to "information about a plurality of pieces of equipment") which the user is authorized to view (page 1, section 0007, page 2, section 0022, viewing by permitted accounts);

determining which information is implicated by the user request (i.e., search, page 2, section 0051, examiner interprets that "said request" refers to "a user request"); sending the service activity information on a client (i.e., showing results of searching service activity information on client for the equipment in fig. 4, page 3, section 0052).

With respect to claim 2, Koveos teaches receiving a client request to display information about a piece of equipment (fig. 3, page 2, section 0051), and sending the information about a piece of equipment such that it is capable of being displayed on a client display (fig. 4, page 3, section 0052).

With respect to claim 5, Koveos teaches receiving a client request to display information about a service history (fig. 5, page 3, section 0053-0054) for a piece of equipment, and sending the service history about a piece of equipment such that it is capable of being displayed on a client device client display (fig. 5, page 3, section 0053, page 1, section 0009).

With respect to claim 6, Koveos teaches receiving a client request to display information about scheduled services (fig. 5, page 3, section 0053-0054) for a piece of equipment, and sending the information about scheduled services for a piece of equipment such that it is capable of being displayed on a client device client display (fig. 5, page 3, section 0053).

With respect to claim 7, Koveos teaches service activity information about the building site where the equipment is located (i.e., 37, location in fig. 4), and information about the equipment's location in the building site (i.e., 52, room in fig. 5, page 3, section 0053, page 1, section 0018).
